Annual subscription rates (two issues) are $18.00 (US) for students, $20 for individuals, and $28 for institutions. Back issues are available at the same rates. Subscribers outside North America should add $10 to cover postage. Single copies of the journal are $10/students, $11/individuals, and $15/institutions. Checks should be made payable to repercussions and sent to the above address.

Subscription orders, change of address notification, and business correspondence (including requests for permissions and advertising orders) should be sent to the Editors at the above address.

repercussions invites submissions of essays that take critical or experimental approaches to music or that address any aspect of music, culture, or critical theory. There are no set formats for contributions; we welcome articles, with personal, hortatory, or polemic perspectives as well as those unconventional in structure or voice. We welcome reports, reviews and explorations of music-critical topics. Proposals for interviews, bulletins, or round-tables will also be considered; please send a short description to the above address.

Prospective contributors should submit two (2) copies of their manuscripts. Submissions are reviewed anonymously, so authors are asked not to include their names on each page. All manuscripts must be double-spaced, including footnotes, quotations, and extracts. Upon acceptance, contributors will be asked to send copy in an electronic format. Musical examples, tables, text for music examples, captions, and footnotes are to be typed at the end of the text on separate pages. Contributors are responsible for obtaining all permissions to quote extracts or to reproduce photographs.

repercussions follows the style guidelines given in the Chicago Manual of Style, 14th ed. (University of Chicago Press, 1993). For other style matters, contributors should consult Writing about Music: A Style Sheet by the Editors of "19th-Century Music" by D. Kern Holoman (University of California Press, 1988).

Submissions and books for reviews should be addressed to the Editors at the above address. For more information, call (510) 642-2678, fax (510) 642-8480.
