

Phil 104, Final Exam FAQs

Will the final exam be discussed during the remaining regular lectures: Nov. 24, 29, Dec. 1, 3? I'm anxious about the final, but I haven't been coming to lecture. Should I come to these last lectures to find out what will be covered on the final? No. Well, you should come to lecture (!), but not to hear what will be covered on the final. This sheet is meant to answer general questions about the final, so that we don't need to spend class time on it.

Will there be a review session for the final? Yes, on Monday, Dec. 6, 10–11AM in 105 North Gate. If there is sufficient demand on Monday, then there will also be a review session on Wednesday, Dec. 8.

What will we do during the review session? It's up to you. You can describe how you are planning to answer particular review questions and get input from your fellow students. I won't give away any answers, but I can tell you whether you are on the right track.

Will Prof. Kolodny help me review for the final during office hours? No, but I'm happy to meet with you to discuss other things.

May I study for the exam with other students? Yes, please do. But you must write up your answer by yourself. (Using someone else's answer as a template will be considered plagiarism.)

May I write out answers in advance? Yes.

When is the final? Monday, December 13, 8–11AM

Where is the final? 105 North Gate

What will the exam look like? Like this:

1. Answer one of the following two review questions on Aristotle...
2. Answer one of the following two review questions on Hobbes...
3. Answer one of the following two review questions on Hume...
4. Answer one of the following two review questions on Kant...
5. Answer two of the following three review questions on Nietzsche...
6. Answer two of the following three review questions on Sidgwick...
7. Answer one of the following two review questions on the lectures after Sidgwick...

What is permitted at the exam? Anything that won't disrupt other students: e.g. books, readers, handouts, notes, and computers. (Make sure you charge your batteries beforehand. There aren't many outlets.)

May I email my answers? Yes, but before leaving, check that Prof. Kolodny was able to open the attachments. Also please address it to both Prof. Kolodny and your GSI.
